

When to Replace Your Water Softener Article taken from Culligan.com

"When should I replace my water softener?" The good news is, if you buy the right water softener and maintain it, they are likely to work for a long time. However, maybe your 20 year old softener isn't working like it use to; you're a new homeowner and there's a water softener; or maybe you've heard about newer high-tech systems being available, and you want some answers.

If you've noticed

- The timer on your softener is mechanical, versus digital
- Softener regenerates at weird times or more frequently
- System using too much salt/not enough salt
- Water is leaving staining in your bathroom and sinks
- Water not feeling as soft and soaps aren't lathering as well as they use to

All of these problems are indicators that your current water softener is not working at it's highest capabilities. When a softener's regeneration times are weird, they tend to overwork, using more of your electricity and water to resolve the water issue in your home. And, often the lack of efficiently working equipment can cause your water problems to return.

Schedule your FREE Water-Quality Test!
Call (800) 678-6203

Recipe Corner

Minty Arnold Palmer

Recipe taken from Tablespoon.com

Looking for a refreshing family-friendly drink for your next cookout or get-together?
We found a minty-twist to the famous Arnold
Palmer, for a cooling summery concoction.

- 2tablespoons fresh mint leaves, slightly crushed
- 2quarts cold water (8 cups)
- 1quart boiling water (4 cups)
- 1cup sugar

- 1can (6 ounce) frozen lemonade concentrate, thawed
- 1/2cup instant tea mix

- 1 In 4-quart casserole, mix boiling water, sugar, tea and mint leaves; let stand 15 minutes.
- 2 Stir in cold water and lemonade. Serve over ice.

2021 Culligan

Stoner Enterprise, Inc & Stoner Quality Water, Inc

Fiesta/Picnic

In case you missed it, June marked our annual Culligan Stoner Enterprises & Stoner Quality Water company picnic. . This year we had an amazing turn-out from all our offices with a few special surprises. One surprise, we made "a sea of blue" to show our support for "B STRONG". And, our VP of Sales, Jerry H. was presented an award for Highest Achievements!
We spent the day playing games, eating delicious food, and enjoying the day with our Culligan family.

